Preparer: Helen P. Ross
Date Prepared: March 27, 1997

Since last surveyed in 1981, the Old Route 219 house has undergone numerous integrity reducing alternations. The most obvious changed are the complete removal of the attached front porch and the addition of vinyl siding. Other modifications include modern replacement one-over-one aluminum windows, the removal of the central interior brick chimney stack, and the closing in of the first story window on the south elevation of the rear ell.
